THE

REAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

ERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PRODUCES AR when a new direction is imparted to its researches, such changes do we behold. Birth is one of the wonders of this kind; and this Great Remedy is a new epoch of this kind and this day it first is offered to the public. It is no myth; with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of rating the disease entirely from the Blood. The TAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable ; it contains no Mercury or other mineral sub-oprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy KNOCKS THE WORLD to furnish anything from of Æsculapius down to the present time in the f Medical Science, which can vie with or excel male properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its s been tested with the happiest effect in the most cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the inent physicians in the world! No matter what dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S y have assumed, it can in no way be more safely ainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept r graves who had they made a timely use of the AIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessd life and health. It requires an article of real d intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the ost of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF e stood the test trial and must be found wanting r. PIONEER WASHER.

JAMES BRUSIE,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Mr O Kilburn's Store, corner of Front and Yamhill Sts., East side, Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same

NOTICE.

Wells, Fargo & Co's
FAST FREIGHT LINE!
STILL GREATER
Reduction on Freight
TO IDAHO!

The Providence Journal says: "Jefferson Davis is as large, on land, in the sum of $100,000, which was eagerly offered by his sympathizers, among whom, we believe, one or two Northern men succeeded in getting their names. He is to-day the popular hero of Richmond. He fled from Richmond two years ago, amid the execrations of the people whom he had brought to ruin, and by the light of the incendiary fires kindled by his own men, their parting legacy to the country which they had taken up arms profoundly to defend. He comes back to receive a popular ovation. The effect of all this will be to make the North more distrustful of the South, and more radical in its determination that the Union shall be reconstructed on principles that will not again need reconstruction."

The Fall River News says: "In reviewing the deeds of the past few days it is difficult to decide whether they are a part of a genuine farce or a more rebel triumph. November next will tell the story, unless Greeley, Schell and Company feed their new pet with so many sweet things that he dies of a surfeit. It is hardly to be supposed that the bail will ever surrender the prisoner or pay the bond. The whole matter will gently die away, and the account with the gigantic rebellion will be gently closed up without as much as putting one man on his trial for the offense of treason."

The New Haven Journal and Courier says: "The first act of the farce is ended. The second will open with Davis' arrival in New York, for which place he started by steamer yesterday morning, intending to take a trip to Canada. Whether Horace Greeley is to accompany him and tender the hospitalities of his house, or whether he was discharged from service when he was no longer needful, is not stated."

The Hartford Press heads its first editorial column with the following article, which we give entire: "Horace Greeley had the honor of a few moments conversation with Jeff. Davis after he had signed the latter's bail bond."

The Rochester Express has an editorial equally pithy and nearly as short, as follows: "We forget whether Horace Greeley went down to Harper's Ferry suit offered to go on the bond of John Brown. We remember distinctly that Jefferson Davis did offer to sign the bond. Davis has always been opposed to punishing traitors. But we forget about Horace Greeley. Will some well informed person be kind enough to let us know."

The Syracuse Journal narrates the proceedings in Court, and says in regard to the proposition for bail: "No opposition being made, the Court announced its readiness to comply, fixing the amount at $100,000 and requiring that half the surety should be given by residents of Virginia. Horace Greeley instantly came forward and signed his name immediately after Davis', in which juxtaposition we suppose both will descend to posterity."

The Rochester (Democrat) says: "Jefferson Davis was yesterday discharged from custody, having been admitted to bail in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. Horace Greeley and Augustus Schell, of New York, and Judge Buckman, of Pennsylvania, are his bondsmen. Schell is a Democrat, and so, also, we presume, is Buckman. That Greeley should have volunteered to become the bail of the great traitor is not surprising. It is perfectly in keeping with the malignity of notoriety, and that romantic taste for cheap magnanimity, which he has always manifested. We do not find fault with it on the ground of kindness to the rebel chief. On the contrary, if Davis had been really in want of bail, and Greeley had stepped forward and pledged his fortune to secure the personal freedom of the fallen adversary whom he had all his life opposed, we should have applauded the act as noble and generous. As it is, when thousands of rich men of his own political faith stand ready to give bail for Davis, we cannot but regard Greeley as thrusting himself forward where he was not wanted, and making a theatrical sensation of very doubtful bad taste."

The Oswego Advertiser and Times has a leading editorial headed "Greely and Davis," in which it begins by saying that "Greeley's morbid desire to connect his name in some way to connect his name with the great chief of the rebellion has been gratified." It the reviews then secession and secessionists of Greeley, his weakness and vacillation during the war, and the unconditional amnesty doctrines proclaimed last fall, and says that "Greeley always has been and always will be a most consistent inconsistent man."

The Poukeepsie Eagle says: "The result, we believe, will be an injury to the Government by removing the odium from treason that ought to attach to it, if it does not give it a direct sanction."

The Syracuse Standard says: "Horace Greeley has again succeeded in making himself notorious. He yesterday united with Augustus Schell and Judge Buckman, two gentlemen of the Democratic persuasion, in becoming bail for Jeff Davis. There may be some soft-hearted people who will praise this last vagary of the Tribune philosopher as an act of magnanimity, but it is simply done to acquire a little additional notoriety. It arose from no necessity. There were plenty of Davis' friends who were eager for the opportunity, but the gentle Horace went voluntarily to Richmond for the purpose, and by so doing put himself in the category of Davis' special friends. He ort, therefore, is simply an impeachment of his own honesty, or at least of his own good sense."

The Troy Times says: "Perhaps all that needs be said now is that Davis has got off with a very light punishment, indeed. Horace Greeley may dry up his tears, the delay of justice may no more disturb his equanimity. Jefferson Davis is free—there is to be no more imprisonment for the leader of the bloody rebellion. He can never be convicted of treason—it is doubtful whether he will ever be tried for the crime. He has his liberty, he is still the pet and favorite of the once arrogant but now humbled chivalry of the South, but he is stripped of the highest privileges of citizenship. He can have no voice in the affairs of the nation—he is disfranchised. So much at least is exacted as a penalty. In the case of the rebel chief Greeley may labor to restore to him his 'lost rights,' but it will require something more than a bail bond to accomplish so much more for the criminal leader of the crushed out rebellion."

A new sixpenny magazine is in preparation for the 1st of May, under the title of The London.

The Release of the Traitor Chief—Opinions of the Eastern Press

[From the New York Evening Post, May 15th.]

So far as we have seen the opinions expressed by our Republican exchanges, there is a singular unanimity in regard to the judicial farce recently enacted at Richmond, in which Jeff Davis, Horace Greeley, Judge Underwood and others figured prominently.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says "The country cares not much about it, but will be satisfied. The disgrace of holding Davis a prisoner without trial has terminated, and this is something. The chief actor will rest on Greeley, who is now in an excellent position to play the part of grand pacificator, which he once undertook prematurely. He has won the admiration and gratitude of the ex-Confederates, let him make the most of the great opportunity, and go through the South as the apostle of Republicanism. He will have a friendly hearing."

The Hartford Courant says: "Now that Jeff D is at liberty, and naturally looking out for something to turn his hand to, why shouldn't he accept a position on the editorial staff of the New York Tribune? He could infuse a special earnestness into the "general amnesty" articles, and would take a good deal of labor, in this way, off the shoulders of the editor-in-chief."

The Worcester Spy says: "Then followed a season of general congratulation, and shaking of hands with the prisoner, John Minor Botts and Horace Greeley being among the first. Davis was radiant. The appearance of Greeley in this capacity, reversing the natural order of things, representing the Government as the prosecutor instead of the prosecutor, and Davis as the victim instead of the felon—calls to mind a remark as applied to him by a Western paper when he was a candidate for United States Senator—a remark which seemed harsh at the time and was deprecated by sensitive people—that "for twenty-five years Greeley had been a martyr in council, an unreliable commander in action, a philanthropo in victory and a riotous disorganizer in defeat." That he should be found in Richmond as a kind of volunteer aid to O'Connor, congratulating the man who, with a bad purpose, deluged the country in blood, on his easy escape from the consequences of that immeasurable crime, may be characteristic of one who insisted upon "making war in spite of Mars, and of negotiating in spite of Minerva," but it is none the less shameful."

The Providence Journal says: "Jefferson Davis is at large, on bail, in the sum of $100,000, which was eagerly offered by his sympathizers, among whom, we believe, one or two Northern men succeeded in getting their names. He is to-day the popular hero of Richmond. He fled from Richmond two years ago, amid the execrations of the people whom he had brought to ruin, and by the light of the incendiary fires kindled by his own men, their parting legacy to the country which they had taken up arms profoundly to defend. He comes back to receive a popular ovation. The effect of all this will be to make the North more distrustful of the South, and more radical in its determination that the Union shall be reconstructed on principles that will not again need reconstruction."

The Fall River News says: "In reviewing the deeds of the past few days it is difficult to decide whether they are a part of a genuine farce or a more rebel triumph. November next will tell the story, unless Greeley, Schell and Company feed their new pet with so many sweet things that he dies of a surfeit. It is hardly to be supposed that the bail will ever surrender the prisoner or pay the bond. The whole matter will gently die away, and the account with the gigantic rebellion will be gently closed up without as much as putting one man on his trial for the offense of treason."

The New Haven Journal and Courier says: "The first act of the farce is ended. The second will open with Davis' arrival in New York, for which place he started by steamer yesterday morning, intending to take a trip to Canada. Whether Horace Greeley is to accompany him and tender the hospitalities of his house, or whether he was discharged from service when he was no longer needful, is not stated."

The Hartford Press heads its first editorial column with the following article, which we give entire: "Horace Greeley had the honor of a few mo

The City Election

The result of the election of yesterday may be called a Democratic victory, for though the Democrats elected only a portion of their ticket, this partial success is a thing so unusual with them that it is fairly entitled to be called a Democratic triumph. As the Republican party is never unduly elated with victory, so it is not to be depressed or rendered spiritless by defeat, and though we cannot pretend to deny that we regret the result of yesterday, we think we have fortitude enough to bear the reverses which every party must expect occasionally to meet. A curious and very unusual combination of circumstances which we do not now care to explain in detail, produced this result. The Democrats worked with tireless activity for their ticket and brought out almost their entire vote, while the Republicans scarcely worked at all, and in consequence did not poll anything near their full strength. It is a habit of the Democratic party to do their best at every election, while the Republicans can get their vote out only on great occasions. The Holmes and Hallock clique have recovered nearly full control of the city, which they will retain one or two years, though certainly not longer, as the people will be compelled in that time to rise and drive them from office and power as they did a few years ago.

Settlement at Klamath Lake.

The Sentinel of the 8th inst. says:

We need population—have plenty of vacant land—and it is the duty of the State Government to encourage immigration, by offering every facility for the occupation of the public domain, rather than obstruct it by playing the part of a land monopolist.

On the admission of Oregon into the Union, she became entitled to 500,000 acres of land, to be located by the Governor, for internal improvements. The constitution of Oregon provides that the proceeds of these lands shall be used for common school purposes. Congress recognized the conversion of the donation to school purposes by the admission of Oregon and otherwise. Most of the 500,000 acres of land have been selected within the last four years. As stated in the Sentinel the best lands in the Klamath Lake country have been selected by the State and set apart as school lands; but if the Sentinel had been as willing to examine the law as to make a fling at the State Government, it would have found that the State is not "playing the part of a land monopolist," nor does it propose to sell the lands "to the highest bidder."

There is nothing in the law now and never has been to prevent any man from moving on to any land selected by the State, and making his application to the State Land Commissioners to purchase the same. We understand that about 200,000 acres of the land selected by the State have been approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, including the selections in the Klamath valley; if so, settlers can immediately purchase said land, in quantities of 320 acres to each, and receive their deeds from the State.

As to the price to be paid for school lands by those who have made application to purchase since the passage of the Act, approved Oct. 24, 1866. Sec. 2d of said Act provides that such persons shall have the land at its true value, in coin, to be ascertained and fixed by the State Board and the County Superintendent in the county where the land is situated.

Those who applied before the passage of said Act will receive their lands at the price fixed in previous laws. Surrounding Klamath Lake is a rich, beautiful and extensive valley—the best grazing country now to be found in the State. Another military post is to be established this summer between Fort Klamath and Goose Lake, which will furnish ample protection to the settlers in that section of country. There is now no impediment in the way of settling that country immediately. Let it be filled up and a new county organized at the next session of the Legislature. A half dozen enterprising men, leading the way, will be followed by enough settlers to fill up that valley before fall. Who will go first?

THE WIFE OF AN EX-PRESIDENT IN COURT.—A trial of considerable importance was commenced in Richmond county, (Staten Island), New York, April 24th, in which the validity of a will made by Juliana Gardiner is contested by her son, David L. Gardiner. The property, at present valued at $180,000, is in possession of Mrs. John Tyler, daughter of the deceased, and widow of the late President Tyler, who, according to the terms of the will, is to enjoy the income of the same until she is indemnified for losses sustained to her property during the war. Contestants claim that she exercised undue influence on the mind of testatrix in order to secure possession of the real estate.

A New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, of May 1st, relates the following;

The evidence in the trial was concluded on Saturday, and shows a curious state of domestic high life, besides giving an explanation of the mob affair, leaving it to be inferred that the seizure of the flag was instigated by the brother who now endeavors to break the will. By the testimony of Miss Tyler, it appears that though she has arrived at the discreet "age of 16 last Christmas," she is a very rapid young woman, having a fondness for smoking cigars and singing secession songs. Her first lesson at smoking appears to have been an unusually severe one, for, in addition to the usual sickness consequent on the first introduction to the weed, her Uncle David insisted on ramming his half-smoked cigar down the throat and up the nose of the sick young woman, exclaiming, as he did so, "I'll teach you to smoke my cigars." The uncle also shouted and cuffed the brothers of this charming young lady, and Mrs. Tyler occasionally came in for blows at his hands. Verily, "one-half the world knows not how the other half lives."

SUNDAY IN PARIS.—A Paris correspondent tells us how the efforts of some of our Christian people to restrain the Sabbath-breaking propensities of the Parisians have been received:

The English and Americans are inclined to close their sections on Sunday; but the petition which has come from America to have the whole building closed on the Sabbath only excite guffaws of laughter. Sunday, on the continent, is the day when the host, the most classical, music is played; when fun shows his oddest antics; when the ballet dancers pirouette in the most ravishing manner, when declaimers recite with the most vigor and vim; when Punch and Judys attract the largest crowds; when fountains play and vaulters tumble, and circus riders take their most daring pose, and every one who can eats a good dinner. Old Fuller preached that we had six days to do our work in, and ought not to shear the Lord's little lamb, but here Sunday is a shipping goat, surrounded by laughing satyrs and bacchantes; and though John Bull should come in a body, followed by Brother Jonathan, to petition for a Sunday law, the people would have their cake and ale; and ginger would be hot in the mouth; and the Emperor would have his races, and his most gorgeous receptions, where pomp, arrayed in brilliant hues on the out side of the cavalcade, would continue to usher in to him gay fashion and stilted rank up to the last recorded moment of his dynasty.

ACKNOWLEDGES THE LOGIC OF EVENTS.—Robert W. Hughes, of Abington, Va., one of the most polished writers of the South, once a prominent secessionist and editor of the Richmond Examiner during the war, declares himself on the present political question in these words:

"I avow a radical change of opinion on many leading points of politics. More especially am I wearied of the practice which the South has pursued since the beginning of this great and eventful controversy, of sacrificing attainable good, attainable right, attainable justice, for a good, a right, a justice for the most part abstract, intangible, and of a doubtful value."

MOURNING CANDLES.—Buttger states that the mourning candles used in Germany are made by heating paraffine with the shells of the Annandian nut, which contain a black resin soluble in paraffine. While the paraffine is liquid it is of a dark brown color, but on becoming solid it is jet black. When the candles made of such colored paraffine have a very thick wick, they burn without giving off an unpleasant odor or vapor.

A horrible case of self-inflicted mutilation and torture occurred in Adrain county, Mo., lately. A stranger, who calls himself Robert Youmkin, was brought into the town of Mexico, totally blind, from having with a stick and his own hands, as he reports, punched both his eyes out. He seems to be perfectly rational, though Youmkin says himself that he was insane when he did the deed, and it seems impossible to entertain any other conclusion. Youmkin says he is thirty-four years of age, seems disposed to be non-committal about his residence or nativity, and hints at a love affair that did not run very smoothly as the cause of his temporary insanity.

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness,

Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Laughter, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it appropriates as a delightful invigorator. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and luscious materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The game closed at 6.30, occupying 2 hours and 37 minutes. The day was quite sultry, but the members of both clubs played with unusual vigor, and the utmost good feeling prevailed throughout. Mr. A. J. Apperson of the Clackamas Club, acted as umpire, and with the most fairness and promptness, giving entire satisfaction to both sides, and Mr. W. B. White was the scorer for the second club. At the conclusion of the game, invitations were extended to the Oregon City Club to partake of a tasteful dinner served up in excellent style at the Western Hotel.

H. TILVINS,
Scorer, P. B. B. C.

CHESTER ELECTION.—The election yesterday passed off very quietly, compared to that of a year ago. Very little excitement marred the "festivities" of the day. In the First Ward voters exercised the precious franchise with very little enthusiasm, and in a manner which seemed to indicate that it was all a "matter of course." It certainly was a matter of course that somebody should be elected, and somebody should be elected. Then why the necessity of excitement. All in all, we are fast coming to the old idea that men are becoming wiser and better, and that useless excitements are to be consigned among the "has-been" things. As long ago as we can remember election day was a day on which all feuds were settled, threats carried into execution, neighborhood quarrels brought to a focus, and several different variety of human passions found vent, and pent-up wrath settled itself; crimes horrulously and sometimes otherwise. In the Second Ward a little excitement was created by some enthusiastic partisans, whose "keg" had become full early in the day, and the effervescing alcoholic substances were forced to spend itself—and perhaps the manner thereof was as harmless as any. In the Third Ward where feelings had entered strongly into the election of city officers were more energetic than wise and tempted by noise and confusion to convict their opponents of their sins and convert them to another manner of thinking and acting. But on the whole, however, can be rendered in the premises, and that is that Portland has become a very orderly and law-abiding and peaceable city—of which our citizens may well be proud.

RECEIVER RETURNS.—The following are the official returns of the city election, held yesterday. They are believed to be correct:

	1st Ward.	2d W.	3d W.	Total.	Maj.

COUNCILMEN.

First Ward—A. C. Ripley, 214; Wm. Blardoff, 152. Ripley for Ripley, Democrat, 62.

Second Ward—Robert Porter, 226; C. L. Rechheimer, 88; R. B. Knapp, 220; W. H. Watkins, 212.

Third Ward—Wm. Church, 121; W. D. Carter, 123; T. Lambert, 128; L. Besser, 277; O. D. Burch, 238; M. F. Malley, 255.

BASE BALL CLUBS.—Last evening, at the Western Hotel, the Pioneer Base Ball Club gave a magnificent supper to the Clackamas Base Ball Club and their invited guests from Oregon City. Of the supper itself it is only necessary to say that it was gotten up under the superintendence of that prince of caterers, S. D. Smith, and that it fully sustained his already well earned reputation. Immediately after the courses were through Mr. Law, on behalf of the P. B. B. Club, proposed "The health of the Clackamas B. B. Club, in sparkling cold water"—responded to by Mr. W. C. Johnson. Mr. Johnson proposed "the health of the President of the Pioneer B. B. Club"—responded to by Mr. T. F. Minor. Several other toasts were proposed and speeches were made by Messrs. Randall, Popo, Witherell, Buchtel, White, Waldbongbman, Steele, Quackenbush, Myrick, Law, Shepherd, Lavins and others. The utmost good feeling prevailed and the party finally broke upat half-past nine, with expressions of mutual friendship and amity; and the Oregon City people left on the Alert for home.

BASE BALL PLAYERS.—We were yesterday forcibly struck with the fine appearance of the Base Ball players (both Clubs. Their dress was certainly appropriate and became the players and the occasion. Each Club being differently dressed and the initials of the name of the Club on the breast of each, friends were at no loss to discover their favorites, if they happened to have any. The Oregon City Club played with much strategy, particularly the pitcher, in the manner in which he pitched the ball, giving very slight momentum, and causing it to have a beautiful curve so that when it reached the striker it was on the downward inclined. The object of all this manœuver, was to disappoint the striker and cause him, when at the ball fairly, to send it on the "fly" so that a player might catch it, or that he might hit it slightly so that the catcher might catch the ball. It certainly was the strategy on the part of the Club, and perfectly legitimate.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Yesterday Judge Shattuck was brought to the Court House. He formally opened court, a Grand Jury was empannelled and charged, and by suggestions of attorneys all civil business was adjourned over until the second Monday in July, being the 8th. The Grand Jury, however, will perform their duties, and make their usual report relative to his Honor. The Judge should console himself with the thought that the severe accident by which he was disabled, will not cause as much suffering to any one of the constituent members of society by the cessation of court business, as he has already and will continue to suffer.

SUICIDE.—A man was found on the other side of the toll gate, on the McAdamized road, yesterday, with his throat cut almost from ear to ear. By his side was found an old worn out jack-knife, with which he had horribly hacked his throat in his attempt at suicide. When found he was not dead, and was brought into the city and placed in a house on the corner of Harrison and Front. Medical aid was soon obtained but he survived but a short time. Dr. Roach made a post mortem examination. He has not at the present writing been recognized. We are informed that he has the appearance of having been a dissolute man.

A JOKE.—Jokes on Reporters for the press are not unfrequent. Yesterday we were made the butt of a moral(less) joke, an Attorney of the city, genial and kind, though a decided "fonkist." We were in quest of an item in the U. S. District Court Room, when the aforesaid joker informed us that the stage coach for Oregon City would, the morning and "rain over" a child, and when we looked the particulars, he informed us that the child was not hurt, as the jocky thing was under a bridge when the stage passed over. That "yarn" caused us to snort.

IMPROVEMENT.—Second street, from A to Morrison will during the present year be graded and improved with plank. The sidewalks are now nearly all complete. Alder street, from Front to Fourth is this year to be graded only. A portion of the sidewalks are yet to be built. When these improvements are completed, a great change will be perceptible; more so than at first flush would appear. Although the improvements during the present year will not equal those of last, still they are probably sufficient to answer the demands of public convenience.

COAL AT THE MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA.—A recent discovery of coal has been made at the mouth of the Columbia, just back of Baker's Bay, and inside of the bar. It has been definitely settled that these coal mines are accessible, and therefore invaluable, not only for domestic use, but for our great ocean steamers, which henceforth have been to extraordinary expense in procuring their supply of this article of fuel. Mr. Mercer has been appointed agent by the owners, who will, as soon as practical hands can be procured, proceed to open the mines, and render them of service.

OREGON PRODUCTIVENESS.—Surely no person who beholds the immense amount of flour now being stored away in warehouse, on the wharfs and in the departing steamer can for a moment doubt the extreme productiveness of the State of Oregon. Yesterday, as for several days previous, every dray in town was engaged in hauling flour to make up the cargo of the steamship Ajax. This steamer will take off 1,200 tons, and there is far more offered than she can take. As a consequence of this immense quantity being thrown into market, flour is now a little, and only a little, dull. Flour in small quantities still continues to arrive from Walla Walla.

GOOD TEMPLAR LODGE.—On Sunday, June 23d, a Lodge of Good Templars was organized at Olive Creek, in Grant county, by T. E. Bramhall. The Lodge consists of gentlemen only, who are determined that the cause of temperance shall not lag in those snowy mountains. The following are the officers elect: A. Eads, W. C. T.; Seneca Smith, W. S.; G. Griffin, W. T.; Mr. Lisle, W. I. G.; J. Reddick, W. C.; J. Marshall, W. V. T.; Wm. Eads, W. F. S.; R. Randall, W. M.; H. B. Peterson, W. O. G.; F. J. M. Townsend, P. W. C. T.; Lodge Deputy, Seneca Smith.

MONTICELLO COAL.—Capt. Strang, of the Okanagan, informs us that coal is being taken out at Monticello with energy, and that to-day he will take the necessary gunny sacks to contain fifty tons, which will be brought to this city, and placed aboard our ocean steamer, and if it proves successful that hereafter a supply will be kept on hand to furnish ocean bound steamers with the necessary fuel. Thus another article of commerce is added to the already long long list of productions of the north-west country.

PRODUCE.—The steamer Senator, yesterday, came down full of passengers to witness the match game of Base Ball played between the Pioneer Club of Portland and the Clackamas Club of Oregon City, and also a large freight, as follows: 1080 bf bbls flour, 4 cases tuck, 178 gunnies bacon, 170 bales wool, 2 bf bbls, 16 boxes eggs, 2 bf bbls, 12 boxes, 100 bales paper, 1 pkg wool sks, 2 trunks.

WAGONS.—We observed on the wharf several Government wagons, manufactured in this city, en route for Vancouver. We were informed that they were part of those which the officers of Government refused to receive, on account of some slight defect, which has been remedied.

EDITORS AT LARGE.—Ireland of the Enterprise and Upton of the Lafayette Courier were in town yesterday, looking as well as could be expected—being well kept and successful newspaper men. May their visits never be more seldom.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—Dr. Poppleton instituted an inquest yesterday evening on the body of the man who committed suicide, which was adjourned until to-day to await further evidence. As yet the body has not been identified.

MARION COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court for Marion county commences next Monday, which, jokingly speaking, will rid us, for a while, of most of our leading lawyers. Embarrassed creditors of course will have a short respite.

ARTISTIC.—Where the Bank of British Columbia was once, is now being erected a fine building for the use of the Bank, with a decided artistic front. It will be a credit to the city and the builder.

CHANGE OF TIME ON THE COLUMBIA.—The steamer Fairman hereafter will leave Celilo every Saturday for Lewiston, instead of as heretofore. Shippers ought to make a note of this.

ATTEMPT AT ASSASSINATION.—About 5 o'clock last evening a pistol shot was fired at W. R. Hill, by some person, as yet to the police unknown. It is probable that the person will be found to-day.

TEMPLAR SOIREES.—The Good Templars of East Portland have a Festival at their hall this evening.

THE WIDE AWAKES will meet for practice this evening at 5 o'clock.

CLACKAMAS CLEANED OUT—and sent home satisfied. The next time don't undertake to play against the Pioneers. They are just as hard to beat as Barman Bros. in selling custom made clothing at the following prices: Linen suits, 40; wove flannel shirts and drawers, $1 50; white shirts, $1 50; cassimere pants, $5 50; cassimere suits, $13 50. Are those prices cheap enough to give you another good cleaning? You bet. Well, if so, go to Barman Bros., corner Front and Morrison streets, Portland.

General Pope's "Ten Thousand Prisoners" Dispatch

POPE DESTROYS HE NEVER WROTE IT—GENERAL HALLECK ITS AUTHOR

[Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The supplemental report of the Committee on the Conduct of the War contains much interesting official history upon various matters which excited general attention during the war but the exact truth concerning which could not be ascertained. Among these will be remembered the highly exaggerated dispatch purporting to be from General Pope, when pursuing the enemy south of Corinth, reporting the capture of 10,000 prisoners and great quantities of arms. The friends of General Pope have constantly asserted that he never sent the dispatch, but that it with several others were manufactured by General Halleck. The latter has never been willing to have the matter investigated and in fact, has exerted himself to suppress evidence on the case. In the volume just published General Pope takes occasion to set this matter right. The charge is made direct by General Pope that Halleck went so far as to mutilate the official files at Department Headquarters for the purpose of concealing the facts. The following is the extract from the report concerning the authenticity of the dispatch:

B. F. Wade Chairman of the Committee on the Conduct of the War * * It becomes my duty in this place, and it is with pain that I feel obliged to perform it, to invite attention to an error which it has always been my purpose to correct as soon as it could be done without injury to the public interests. The day after my command reached its permanent camp on Clear Creek (the 13th of June) I saw in the newspaper that day received the following publication:

"GENERAL HALLECK'S HEADQUARTERS, } June 4, 1862

"E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: General Pope, with forty thousand men, is thirty miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard. He already reports ten thousand prisoners and deserters from the enemy, and fifteen thousand stand of arms. A farmer says that when Beauregard learned that Colonel Elliot had cut the railroad on his line of retreat he became frantic, and told his men to save themselves the best way they could. We have captured nine locomotives and a number of cars. One of the former is already repaired, and is running to-day, several more will be in running order in two or three days. The result is all I could possibly desire.

H. W. HALLECK,
Major General Commanding."

I copy this dispatch in full, though it is only concerning the first part of it, that I have any remarks to make. I need scarcely say, after pro face, that I never made such a report, nor anything like it, as is stated in the dispatch above quoted. I was very much surprised when first I saw it in the papers, and immediately pointed it out to my Adjutant General and other officers of my Staff, who were equally surprised with myself. So far from being thirty miles south of Corinth on the day of his dispatch, I was sick in my tent, not four miles distant from General Headquarters, from the 3d until the 7th of June, and was in telegraphic communication with him during the whole of that time, so that I think he must have known the fact. I sent General Halleck no reports by telegraph or otherwise, except abstracts of such as were forwarded to me by courier from Generals Rosecrans and Granger. There is but one dispatch thus sent which mentions numbers at all, and that is as the following:

"HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE MISSISSIPPI, } NEAR DANVILLE, June 3, '62.

Major General Halleck: The two divisions in the advance, under Rosecrans, are slowly and cautiously advancing on Baldwin this morning, with the cavalry on both flanks. Hamilton, with two divisions, is at Rienzi and between there and Boonville, ready to move forward should they be needed. One brigade from the reserve occupies Danville. Rosecrans reports this morning that all testimony shows that the enemy has retreated from Baldwin, but he is advancing cautiously. The woods for miles are full of stragglers from the enemy, who are coming in in squads. Not less than ten thousand men are thus scattered about, who will come in within a day or two.

JOHN POPE,
Major General Commanding.

This dispatch contains the substance of report both from General Rosecrans and General Granger, but it contains neither the word deserter, prisoner nor capture. As was well known, the woods on both sides of the line of pursuit were thronged with stragglers from Beauregard's army, lagging behind or making their way to their homes in Tennessee, Northern Mississippi, Kentucky and Arkansas. It was supposed that many of them would come into our lines, but no attempt was made to capture them. Very few did come in at all, as it turned out. The estimate of the number of these stragglers was not mine, but General Granger's, who was in advance with his cavalry; but from General Buell's estimate, and what I saw and heard myself afterward, I am satisfied that General Granger's estimate was much within bounds. Upon this dispatch, probably, General Halleck's extraordinary statement is made, if it first be himself over sent the dispatch to the Secretary of War, above quoted. I say "if," because it will be noticed in the appended correspondence between him and myself on this subject that he does not admit that he sent such a dispatch. I submit the correspondence in question, which I think will be conclusive on the subject, so far as I am concerned.

"WASHINGTON, (D. C.) July 5, 1865.

"Major General H. W. Halleck, United States Army, Washington, (D. C.)—General: The war has now [illegible] the events and incidents connected [illegible] history. As I do not [illegible] misconception which has [illegible] prejudices, and which is [illegible] should stand recorded against [illegible] longer exist, I desire to [illegible] dispatch published [illegible] at Corinth, Mississippi [illegible] purporting to have been sent by [illegible] Secretary of War and containing such [illegible] the following words, viz: 'General Pope is thirty miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard. He already reports ten thousand prisoners and deserters and fifteen thousand stand of arms captured,' etc. I do not know that you ever sent such a dispatch, but as I do know that I never made such a report, I infer that if you sent the dispatch in the question, you must have done so under a misapprehension. I have therefore, to request that you furnish me a copy of any report made by me upon which such a dispatch as that in question was sent. I have full records of all my letters, dispatches and reports to you during the operations at Corinth, and no such report is among them.

"I am, General, respectfully, your obedient servant,
JOHN POPE, Major General.

[Reply.]

"WASHINGTON, July 5, 1865.

"Major General Pope—General: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 3d inst. As my papers are all boxed up for transportation to California, I am not able to refer to the dispatches to which you allude, nor can I trust my memory in regard to communications made more than three years ago further than to say that I never reported to the Secretary of War dispatches received from you which were not received.

"Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
"H. W. HALLECK,
Major General."

[Reply.]

"WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5, 1865.

"Maj. Gen. H. W. Halleck, United States Army, New York (N. Y.)—General: Your note, in reply to my letter of yesterday's date, was received this afternoon, too late to be answered before you left the City.

"I regret that you did not see fit to make the very brief examination of your files necessary, to make it plain to you that the correction asked for in my letter was due to me. I was at least entitled to an assurance that such examination should be made at the earliest practicable moment. Certainly the three weeks which you are to pass in New York afford ample time to inspect very fully all your papers bearing on the subject of my letter. As you do not promise an examination now, or any other time, I am constrained to say to you that the statement which trusting to your memory and without inspection of your files, you do make is altogether unsatisfactory, and leaves me at a loss to determine whether you are to be understood as denying that you sent the dispatch to the Secretary of War, which was the subject of my letter, or whether, in the face of my positive denial, you mean to insist that the dispatch was a correct transcript, or anything like it, of a report made to you by me. If it be your purpose to make such a statement, in answer to my deliberate and unqualified assertion that no such report as that attributed to me was ever made by me, it becomes more necessary than ever that you should examine your files and furnish me with the papers I ask for. In short, General, I utterly deny that the dispatch purporting to have been sent by you to the Secretary of War was based upon any report from me such as is therein stated, and I therefore call upon you either to disavow this dispatch or to furnish me with a copy of the report attributed to me. In almost any other case this question could be easily and conclusively decided by a reference to the official files at the headquarters of the department which you then commanded, but I have ascertained, General, that when you left the West you ordered that portion of the dispatches and reports concerning the operations around Corinth, which bore upon this question, to be cut out of the official book, and brought with you to Washington, leaving the official record in St. Louis mutilated and incomplete.

These dispatches thus taken are believed to be in your possession. It is not necessary for me to comment on this transaction further than to say that it manifestly leaves the question I make with you to be settled by my files and those now in your possession, together with the evidence of officers, telegraphic operators and others whose duties and positions enable them to speak with knowledge on the subject.

I trust, General, that you understand that this correspondence has not been begun by me without due consideration, nor without abundant testimony to maintain my position on the question involved. You must therefore, see that the matter cannot be disposed of by such an answer as this date. The case between us is very simple. You are believed to have sent a dispatch to the Secretary of War asserting that I had made certain reports. I deny, utterly, that I did so. The onus of proof is therefore with you, and I might well be contented to rest the matter here, but it is proper to inform you that I have abundance of evidence to establish the negative of the statement in the dispatch attributed to you as far as that dispatch relates to me. My main purpose in writing to you on the subject was to give you the opportunity to explain the matter in a manner that while it would relieve me from the misconception arising from your dispatch, would leave unimpaired the personal relations which have always existed between us. It is my wish to retain those relations if possible, but you must be aware that I cannot long do so unless you act toward me in the same spirit of frankness in which my letter of yesterday was written. It will afford me real satisfaction, upon the receipt of the copy of the report in question, accompanied by such an explanation as a spirit of frankness and candor would dictate, to recall and destroy this letter. Such explanation is, however, due to me, and I trust sincerely that you will not leave New York, where I understand you are to remain three weeks, without making the brief examination of your files necessary to a full explanation of the subject. I send the original of this to you by the hands of Major Scott, your Staff officer, and a copy by mail to John C. Hamilton. I will leave for St. Louis Friday, the 7th instant, at which place any communication will reach me.

"I am, General, respectfully, your obedient serv't,
"JOHN POPE, Maj Gen."

To this letter no reply has been received. I had resolved when this war began that I would never during its continuance resort to the newspapers for any justification of myself from charges or statements made against me, and never suffer myself to be drawn into personal controversies with other officers, which might destroy my usefulness or theirs, or in any way obstruct, in the slightest degree, the prosecution of the war. I have steadfastly maintained this resolution until the war having ended, a settlement of such personal matters can no longer be attended with consequences injurious to the public interests.

I was called to Washington immediately after this dispatch from General Halleck was made public, and my relations to him during the operations in front of Washington needed to be so close and harmonious, in the face of the extraordinary difficulties which confronted us, that it would have shown neither wisdom nor patriotism to have opened a controversy at that time, if, indeed, I had not previously resolved against it. I preferred, therefore, to bear unmerited reproach rather than make an explanation which might have done far more injury to the country than any temporary misconception could do to me. I freely admit that I was deeply pained at the continued and unjust flings which were made at me in the newspapers and in public speeches on account of this dispatch. Even if it had been true that I made such a report, ordinary consideration for an officer who had done his duty with zeal and fidelity, and who, at that very time was daily hazarding his life in the discharge of that duty, should have induced every patriotic man rather to excuse or explain away, than dwell upon a matter that could have no other result than to injure, unnecessarily and cruelly, my personal character at the time when I was employed by the Government on service vital to the country, and without the time or means to offer a reply. I confess, too, that I was greatly surprised to find that any considerable number of intelligent people could have allowed themselves to believe that an officer occupying my position, and who certainly was not in any manner responsible for the public disappointment at the result of the operations around Corinth, and was without any motive for such an act, should make a report which would disgrace him in the eyes of every officer and soldier in his command, and in a few days in the eyes of the whole country. I would greatly have preferred to explain the matter in some other way that would seem less harsh, but the course taken by General Halleck leaves me no alternative except to publish my correspondence with him on the subject. If he really sent the dispatch in question he must have done so under some grievous mistake, which he will, no doubt, make clear hereafter.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN F. POPE, Major General.

A REMARKABLE TREE.—A traveler gives the following account of the "Zumang," a tree belonging to the sub order Cassalpineæ which he saw in Venezuela, South America:

Its head is somewhat the shape of an umbrella, and covers very nearly an acre of ground. In 1857 I measured its head in its greatest diameter from east-southeast to west-northwest most carefully, and found it to be two hundred and six feet and eleven inches. Fifty years previous it was found by Humboldt to measure in its greatest diameter, one hundred and nine two feet, French measure, which is equal to two hundred and four feet and six inches. Hence we see that this extraordinary tree has, within fifty-seven years, increased the horizontal diameter of its head only by two feet and six inches, by which we may infer that it is of good old age. The natives assert, moreover, that so far back as the discovery of the country by Spaniards, three and a half centuries ago, the "Zumang" was, even at that early day, reputed for its enormous size. At the time I saw it, it was but thinly covered with leaves, and seemed to lack vigor of growth. The natives hold it in high veneration, and it was against the law to break even the smallest twig from it.

TO PREVENT CORRUPTION IN LEGISLATURES.—A NEW REMEDY.—To place legislatures beyond the reach of corrupting influences, an eastern writer advises that the members elected should be so large that to buy them would be impracticable. The Boston Traveler says: There is more of corruption practiced in Albany in one winter than is known in all the New England capitals in a century. This difference is not owing to any moral superiority of New Englanders over New Yorkers, the latter being as good men as the former. It is owing to the facilities for corruption that are afforded by the smallness of the New York Legislature. Were there five hundred members of the New York House of Assembly, instead of one hundred and twenty eight, much corruption there would be out of the question. It would not pay, save in a very few extraordinary instances, even to attempt the purchase of men by the hundred, while it is easy and cheap to buy them by the dozen.

A SENSIBLE SILVER FORK.—An obvious improvement has been introduced by a Birmingham manufacturer, which consists in making the fork whole and hollowed or flute l for about two thirds its present length, leaving the prongs of the sufficient length of half or three fourths of an inch, the implement becoming thus a partially "split spoon" convenient for small particles, liquid or semi liquid ingredients, peas and the like.

In the latter part of 1861 a North Carolina soldier was one day passing a house in the country, in which he heard a young lady playing the piano, and singing. Stepping on the piazza, he paused and listened. When the damsel had ceased her song, he put his head through the open window and said: "If you please, Miss, be kind enough to claw the ivory and howl again!" Somewhat startled, she asked what he meant. "Why, play an I sing some more," which she good naturedly did, and the warrior from the tar and turpentine State "retreated in good order," carrying off all his arms but no forage.

There is now living in Lawrence county, Ohio a gentleman who separated from his wife in Pennsylvania many years ago. He came to Southern Ohio and married a Miss P—— of Marietta. After the second wife's death a daughter by the first marriage brought about a reconciliation between her father and mother, and they were remarried more than twenty years after the date of their separation, the first wife becoming the third.

It is in contemplation to erect no less than one hundred and twenty five drinking fountains in New York during the present season, besides a number of fountains for supplying dogs and other small animals with water, which will be erected by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

A lady complained of the insolence of some coal heavers. "To tell you the truth, madam," answered their employer, apologetically, "we have failed in our efforts to get gentlemen to undertake the business."

A New York correspondent of an English paper states that "the ladies of Boston far outstrip the ladies of New York." This may be true, but we doubt it. A conversation that occurred between Miss Flora McFlimsy and an ancient relative, explains how far undressing goes in this city. "Ah, Flora, I see you still have 'Nothing to Wear,'" said the ancient, as they met at the Charity Ball. "It is too true, Pa is so stingy. But what made you think of it?" "Well, I was thinking that if you had anything to wear you had left it at home."

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER
after a thorough trial, by innumerable living witnesses has proved itself the MEDICINE OF THE AGE. Although there have been many medicinal preparations brought before the public since the first introduction of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and large amounts expended in their introduction, the Pain Killer has continued to steadily advance in the estimation of the world as the best Family Medicine ever introduced. It is an internal and external remedy. One positive proof of its efficacy is that the sales have constantly increased, and wholly upon its own merits. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient when taken internally in cases of Cold, Cough, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sores, Sprains, Cuts, Stings of insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it such a host of testimony, as an almost infallible remedy, that it will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest medical discoveries of the nineteenth century.

Consumption like the Rattle Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the lungs. If this be neglected and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, death will be the result. Allen's Lung Balsam will heal the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, loosening the phlegm and matter thus stopping the cough and preventing fatal consumption. U. S. GRANT,

Will make Two Trips per Week to the CITY OF ASTORIA!

Carrying Passengers at $10, the Round Trip, (Meals Included.)

The Boat leaves Portland Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7½ A. M. Returning leaves Astoria Thursdays and Mondays at 6 o'clock A. M.

Every person purchasing a Passenger Ticket will be presented with one of 900 Prize Tickets, to be drawn on the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, for the following Prizes: Steamer U. S. GRANT, to be divided into 4 shares; ONE BLOCK OF LOTS IN EAST PORTLAND, divided into 8 shares, or one lot to the share, viz: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 11, opposite the "New Columbian" Hotel and at the terminus of the proposed Suspension Bridge; ONE GOLD WATCH, worth $100; 100 CORDS DRY FIR WOOD, in 8 shares, to be placed on the Brooklyn Wharf.

The Steamer is 54 tons burthen, 52 horse power engine, propeller wheel, depth of water 6 feet. She is being thoroughly refitted and refurnished as a Passenger Boat. The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the same. Tickets can be had of C. P. FERRY, in Portland, where the money will be left on deposit till the prizes are drawn and delivered.

Any person having a claim against me, and wishing a ticket, can get an order for one by calling on me on board the boat. The person having the gold watch can have $100 in gold coin, if preferred.

C. P. FERRY, Broker, R. J. LADD ex Sheriff ALZEBER, U. S. Marshal, and C. S. SILVER, Merchant, of Portland are the Committee and Judges to direct the Drawing of Prizes. The Prizes will be drawn before the 1st of August, if all the tickets are taken before that time.

☞ This is a liberal offer made to the travelling public to enable the subscriber to pay his debts, and not with any reference to speculation, as all the property is valued at much less than its cost, (the Steamer alone having cost $11,000), and the price for carrying passengers to Astoria being much less than the usual fare.
